Private Residence - Loveladies, Long Beach Island, NJ

- 5,600 SF
- Interior Design Services, Project Management Services
- LEED® for Homes - Platinum

This Loveladies home is not only beautiful and welcoming, it is sustainable as well!

The eclectic design is based on Caribbean elegance; bringing many styles and the use of different materials together, including 100-year-old tiles and repurposed white oak floors.

This home away from home was designed to a great extent to be environmentally friendly and for high-performance energy efficiency. We are happy to announce that this home has been awarded LEED for Homes Platinum certification by the USGBC™.

"IEI is truly the full service design firm that I needed to make this kind of project possible. From project coordination to expert design to sourcing hard-to-find materials, they came through for me in every way!"

- Homeowner
